

Tiada

Tiada is a new company of the Antares group, drawing on 30 years of experience, with a strong production capacity and quality development of design products that have made the firm one of the best in sofa manufacturing. Our production facility is located in Serbia, a country that has a great production tradition that translates into comfortable, high quality products, designed to grace your home and living room for years. Our passion and dedication to development has led us to create this new collection of products that makes us proud – a journey that began many years ago at Ada Serbia, that took us all over Europe and is just getting started....

Tiada

The quality of the materials and respect for the environment are fundamental points of our production process. For this reason, all of our materials have been rigorously tested, free of toxins and environmentally friendly. The materials we use to create our sofas are wood, foam, metal, fabrics and leather, all of which are tested according to current European standards. For example, the wood comes from areas that have a reforestation program, to compensate for CO2 emissions. The foam is Öko-tex Standard 100 certified. The leather is top quality (confirmed by a series of certificates) as are the different fabrics in our collection.

Each model is developed and created with the well-being of the end user in mind. The shapes, dimensions, proportions, choice of materials, and accuracy in choosing all of the details, are fundamental to obtain a final harmony and it is this main objective that inspires us the most. The expert hands of our employees, the experience and the control of each step are a guarantee that the final result is always excellent, providing happiness to our customers.
